

"Here is Furniture in Which I Am Well Pleased"

A low price—a very low price, 20 per cent. to 35 per cent. lower than usual—is bound to please any normal woman, provided—

The quality, the design, the finish, and all the other essentials of a high-grade article are included.

Fine furniture, graceful, comfortable, beautiful, and in perfect taste pleases any woman.

It pleases her husband, her children—the whole family. It pleases even those who don't know why they are pleased.

But it pleases more than anyone else the woman who has the satisfaction of combining low price with high quality and getting a big bargain.

The low prices of this great 25th Anniversary Sale, including scores of Furniture Pieces and Rugs from the greatest factories and mills in America, brought scores of women to our store to-day, "well pleased."

Big sale corsets in our white sale at Vaughan's.
Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Hamlet of the Leonard farm left this morning for an indefinite stay with friends and relatives at their old home in Cambridge and also in Enosburg Falls.

Beginning next Monday, the Pavilion theatre on Pearl street will run nothing but feature pictures. The very latest equipment is being installed in the machine booth, consisting of a Powers No. 6-A machine and the latest model Simplex on the market, which will enable the operator to run a show without waits between reels. The Monday show will consist of a big double bill, which will include the big feature, "Sarah Bernhardt at Home" and the big political drama, "Reaping the Whirlwind," with Jackie Saunders in the leading role. A first-class orchestra has been engaged and everything will be of the highest order.—adv.
